unique service

Keep your customers up-to-date with our proactive service,
i.e. interlink express

interlink express carrying your reputation

timing's everything

All of your deliveries booked on our time-critical by 9.30 service are treated with the utmost urgency. However, in the event of an unavoidable delay, e.g. roadworks, our proactive notification will prevent further query, as we will text you or your customer with the reason for the delay and the expected time of delivery.

Designed to safeguard your good relationship with your customers, proactive notification is another example of Interlink Express customer care in action.

instant text

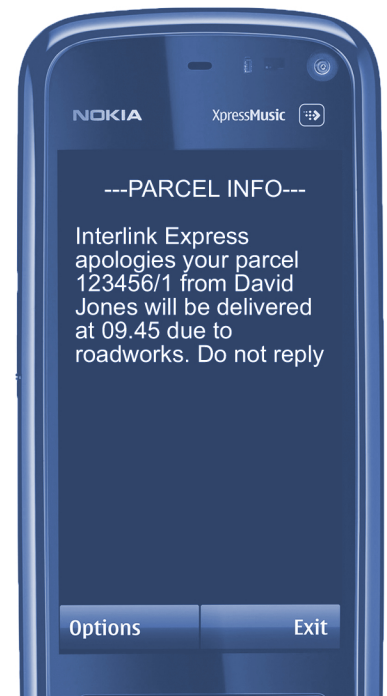

To enable us to make a proactive notification, all you need to do is enter your mobile number or the consignee's in the box provided on the consignment note or on the ship@ease screen where indicated.

We will only text your customers in the event of unavoidable delay.

Remember, proactive notification is only available with our by 9.30 service.

If you regularly use this service, it is advisable to have the mobile phone numbers of the people you despatch to available.
